THE COTTON CROP OF 1952-53—SECOND REPORT.

[On an average of the five years ending 1952-53 the area under cotton in the Madras Presidency has represented 1.9 per cent of the total area under cotton in India.]

The area sown with cotton upto the end of September 1952 is estimated at 435,000 acres as against 429,500 acres on corresponding date last year or an increase of 45 per cent. The increase occurs mainly in the "Northern and Western" and "Coastal" zones and is due to the high price of cotton prevailing at sowing time and to the fact that, in parts of the Western zone, rain fell in the places of food-crops for which there was not sufficient rainfall.

§ The decreased area in Coimbatore and Trichinopoly is due to the unfavourable season.

§ Figures by districts are given below:—

THE Paddy Crop of 1918-19. (Under Report.)

[On an average of the five years ending 1913-14, the area under paddy in the Madras Presidency has represented some 51·1 per cent of the total area under paddy in British India.]

The area sown with paddy up to the end of September 1918 is estimated at 4,813,000 acres. This is 6 per cent below the estimate of 5,101,000 acres made the corresponding date last year. The decrease is fairly general and is due to the insufficient supply of water in the irrigation canals. The decrease is greatest in North Arcot, Chittoor, Madras and Salem.

3. The increase in Madras, Tanjore and Travancore is due to the timely receipt of freshes in rivers. The area in the West Coast has increased being in the second's season.

4. Figures by districts are given below.

SUGARCANE CROP OF 1911-12—SECOND REPORT.

[On an average of the five years ending 1906-07, the area under sugarcane in the Madras Presidency has increased some 62 per cent of the total area under sugarcane in British India.]

The area planted with sugarcane up to the end of September 1911 is estimated at 124,656 acres against an estimate of 124,000 acres made at the corresponding date last year, or an increase of about 6 per cent. The increase is fairly general and is greatest in the districts of Vellore, South Arcot, Coimbatore and Trichinopoly.

The drought which prevailed during July and September retarded the irrigation of the crop at a heavy cost. Yields are expected to be below the normal, especially in Coimbatore where the rains were most deficient.

THE GROUNDWATER CROP OF 1913-14—FURTHER REPORT.

[On an average of the five years ending 1910-1911 the area under groundwater in the Madras Presidency has amounted some 7-8 per cent of the total area under groundwater in British India.]

The area sown with groundnut up to the end of September 1913 is estimated at 1,852,500 acres. This is 30 per cent above the estimate of 1,424,000 acres made at the corresponding date last year. The increase is fairly general and is due to the high prices obtaining during the sowing season. The area in the Deccan increased by 40 per cent as groundnut was sown in the place of food crops for which the rains were insufficient.

1. The crop was affected by drought in September but is recovering as a result of the recent rains.

2. Figures by districts are given below:—

(Area in hundreds of acres, i.e., 100 being omitted.)

GENERAL CROP OF 1912-13—GRAPES REPORT.

(On an average of the five years ending 1910-11 the area under grapes in the Hudson Peninsula has represented some 17 1/2 per cent of the total area under grapes in British India.)

The Standard Barometer and Thermometer are read at 5 a.m., 10 a.m., 4 p.m. and 8 p.m., and the daily means are obtained by the application of hourly corrections, deduced from twenty years' observations. The centre of the thermometer is twenty-two feet above the level of the sea, and the summit of the main gauge is ten feet from ground. The wind, rain and general weather registered are for the current Civil Day—from midnight to midnight.

The total quantity of rain collected since January 1st to 19th October, the average due for the same period being 29.21 inches.

CULTIVATION STATEMENT FOR THE PERIOD APRIL TO AUGUST.

(On an average of the five years ending 1921-22, the area sown from April to August represents 84 per cent of the area sown in the year as lands registered as dry, and 61 per cent of the area sown in the year as lands registered as wet.)

This section relates to the cultivation on Government and minor lease lands in the Presidency which constitutes 63 per cent of the total area. The Agency Division is excluded from the statistics made below.

1. Lands registered as dry.—The area sown in August 1922 is reported as 2,893,846 acres against 3,264,090 acres last year, and an average of 3,151,828 acres. The rainfall in July 1922 was generally far below that in July 1921 and hence there is a decrease of about 21 per cent. It is most marked in the Coimbatore and Coorg districts. Amalgamated and Coimbatore suffered most, the area falling by about 50 per cent in each. The increase of about 7 per cent as compared with the average occurs mainly in Coimbatore, Kottayam, and Malabar.

The area sown from April to August 1922 is reported as 2,818,868 acres, against 3,113,900 acres last year, i.e., a decrease of about 10 per cent, and against an average of 2,798,500 acres, i.e., an increase of only 2 per cent. Shortage was felt in South Malabar owing to early rains, many high-lying lands in Malabar were brought under cultivation owing to the favourable season. The area sown in the Deccan was 20 per cent below last year, the corresponding figure for Amalgamated being 30 per cent.

2. Lands registered as wet.—The area sown in August 1922 is reported as 1,129,400 acres against 1,676,080 acres last year, i.e., a decrease of about 3 per cent, and against an average of 1,607,500 acres, i.e., an increase of about 24 per cent. The area in Malabar was only 37 per cent of last year. The area in Coimbatore, Kottayam and Coorg was above the average.

The area sown from April to August 1922 is reported as 2,513,800 acres, against 3,197,000 acres last year, and against an average of 2,518,500 acres. There has been a reduction in area in Coimbatore and Malabar while there has been an increase in the south.

3. Details by districts are given in the statement appended.
